Bradley Whittemore, Director of Music Admission and Admission and Audition Advisor

• bwhitte1@ithaca.edu

The School of Music educates prospective teachers, performers, conductors, and composers in programs designed to develop persons of professional competence.

Six graduate programs leading to the master’s degree are offered: the master of music or master of science in music education; and the master of music in performance, conducting, composition, and Suzuki pedagogy. Programs range from 30 to 36 credits of graduate study. A minimum combination of two consecutive terms of full-time study in residence is required for the master of music degrees in performance and composition. The master of science and master of music in music education degrees may be pursued on a part-time basis and are the only master’s degrees that are offered during the summer. The master of music degrees in conducting and Suzuki pedagogy require two years in residence.

Admission and Audition Requirements
The Graduate Admission Requirements for the School of Music can be found on the following School of Music Graduate Admissions website (http://www.ithaca.edu/music/admission/graduate/).

Applicants for the MM Performance in Collaborative Piano should note the language/diction requirements outlined in the document at the bottom of the page.

Good Academic Standing, Academic Warning, Dismissal
Graduate students in the School of Music must maintain a GPA above 3.0. A cumulative GPA below 3.0 will result in a student being placed on Academic Warning. Two consecutive semester below a cumulative 3.0 GPA will result in dismissal from the program. In addition, any student receiving more than 3 credits of F, or more than 6 credits of F and C will be dismissed from the program. A final cumulative GPA of 3.0 or higher is required to graduate.

Comprehensive Examinations
All students must pass a final oral examination in their major field, as well as comprehensive exams in music theory, music history, and sight-singing. All written exams are given four times per year, the oral exam is taken at the end of the course of study, and the sight-singing exam is taken by arrangement. Sample exams and exam outlines are available online.

Tuition Expenses
Tuition for all music degrees has been set at $919 per credit for the 2020-2021 academic year.

Curricular Information for All Degrees

Course Prefixes and Numbering System
Course numbers consist of a prefix designating the school and department or area in which the course is offered, and a five-digit number that identifies the specific course. The first of the five-digit group is the level of a course.

- Level-five courses are graduate courses in which qualified seniors may enroll under certain circumstances. For more information, see the following: Ithaca College Undergraduate Catalog
- Level-six courses are for graduate students only.
- Level-seven courses are graduate-level workshops.

Graduate students may take courses at level five, level six, and level seven. At least 50 percent of the degree coursework must be at level six or above. A maximum of 5 workshop credits (level-seven courses) may be used toward graduation.

Pass/Fail Option
Only graduate workshops may be taken for credit on a pass/fail basis.

Level-5 Courses
Courses at level 5 are graduate courses that may also be taken by qualified seniors. Graduate students will fulfill additional expectations as set forth by individual professors in these courses.

Performance Study
Each credit of private instruction involves one-half hour of instruction per week. Students may enroll for only 1 or 2 credits of performance study per semester, unless special approval is given by both the major instructor and the graduate chair. There is an additional 1-credit performance study fee for each credit of performance study taken during the summer session.

The performance or graduate chair assigns instructors to music students. Students contact their performance teachers during the first week of classes to arrange their private lesson schedules.

Ensembles
Full-time graduate students whose degree programs stipulate an ensemble requirement are expected to participate in at least one major ensemble during the fall and spring semesters. Assignment is normally made by audition. Exceptions will be decided by the graduate chair in consultation with the student, the performance studies teacher, and the conductor.

Recitals
Elective recitals and lecture-recitals are taken for 1 credit; recitals in conducting are taken for 3 credits; all other required recitals are taken for 2 credits.

MUED 78000 The Healthy Musician (NLA)
This comprehensive three-day program of seminars and workshops focuses on health and musical performance. A multidisciplinary faculty examines the physical and mental factors that affect both the musician and performance and discusses the care and prevention of music-related injuries. Participants choose sessions for health care providers or sessions for musicians. Areas of instruction include basic anatomy and physiology, exercise prescription, posture, stress, mental training and practice techniques, common injuries, Feldenkrais exercises, Alexander Technique exercises, learning styles (Neuro-Linguistic Programming), splinting, and biofeedback. Musicians demonstrate five major instrument groups (reeds, strings, keyboards, voice, and brass). Both a musician case study and a faculty recital are given. Musicians are invited to bring their instruments each day. To register for the workshop, you must complete the registration form in the Healthy Musician brochure, which is available on request from the summer sessions office.
