

SPORT STUDIES MINOR

This minor is not accepting new students at this time.

Stephen Mosher, Professor, Communication Studies, and Coordinator

The interdisciplinary sport studies minor meets the needs of students who wish to explore sport and its place in modern society. Grounded deeply in the liberal arts, the sport studies curriculum investigates the historical, sociological, and philosophical dimensions of sport. Students have the opportunity to further their appreciation for the world of sport with elective study that explores such areas as the youth sport, sport in the civil rights movement, and sport in film and literature.

Requirements

Code	Title	Credits
SPST 20700	History of Sport	3
SPST 29500	Social Aspects of Sport	3
SPST 29700	Sport: Philosophical Perspectives	3
Select 9 credits of the following: ¹		9
EXSS 20200	Sport and Exercise Psychology
ECON/SMGT 36500	Sport Economics
SMGT 21500	Problems in College Athletics
SPME 39800	Narratives in Sports Documentaries
SPST 29900	The Evolution of Sport Media
SPST 32400	Youth Sport in America
SPST 39400	Sport in Film and Literature
SPST 39700	The Olympic Games
SPST 39900	Selected Topics: Sport Studies
SPST 40700	Sport in the Civil Rights Movement
WRTG 34200	Writing about Sports
Total Credits		18

¹ 6 credits must be at level 3 or 4